CARE AND CLEANING MAINTENANCE:

Unlacquered Brass is a living alloy, and it will respond to its environment. Changes in the hue will happen naturally as it reacts to the levels of humidity in the air; a patina, or darkening, will occur over time.

A patina is a tarnish produced by chemical processes that forms on the surface of many types of metals. When exposed to the elements, a coating of various chemical compounds, such as oxides and carbonates form on the surface.

Clean with a dry microfibre cloth. Do not use wet unless you want to increase the level of patina.

Do not use harsh chemical cleaners. These cleaners are too harsh and can cause damage.
